CITY OF CALABASAS APPOINTS STEVEN A. ROSEMAN, ESQ. AS COMMISSIONER ON THE CALABASAS HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION

Posted 07/04/2013 / Calabasas ///

Calabasas, CA, July 4, 2013 - Roseman & Associates, is pleased to announce Managing Partner, Steven Roseman, Esq. has been appointed to serve on the City of Calabasas Historic Preservation Commission for 2013 - 2014 term. Calabasas has eight commissions as well as a number of committees and other groups that provide advice to the council on issues involving land use and planning, traffic and safety, historical resources, and the environment. Most of the panels consist of five individuals appointed by city leaders. Each City Council member places an appointee on every commission.

A native of South Africa who has lived in the U.S. for 22 years, Roseman said his background in accounting and as a real estate attorney would be an asset to the city.

“ Within the sphere of the work that I do, I’ve had interesting involvement in a number of projects, including the construction of a new Whole Foods market in Old Town Pasadena and construction defects affecting a condominium complex,” he said.
